

I Have A Dream!

Think about the world in which you live. Is there anything that you feel is a problem? Brainstorm. Explore. Choose one issue that needs to be solved to make the world a better place to live. Your issue can be economical, environmental or Social.

Write an article for a magazine about how to “solve” the problem.

1. Introduce your issue: Tell what problem you are concerned about, and why? Think about who your audience is, and grab their attention!

2. Describe the Issue: Provide details and background information (statistics/facts, quotes, historic evidence, examples, descriptions) about the causes and negative effects of your issue. What is the problem? What caused it? Who/what is affected? How is it affected?

***SUPPORT your statements with your sources!

3. Call to Action: Propose a Solution(s) that will help improve or even solve the issue (are others “solving” this issue? What are they doing? Is it working?). Why is it important to solve this issue? Describe what the world will be like afterwards. Be sure to try to persuade your readers that your solutions are good ones.

4. Conclusion: Remind reader of key points, benefits to solution, or remind of problem's significance. Make sure the reader knows what they need to do now!